DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

1. This action is in response to the communication filed on September 8, 2003. Claim 25 is pending. Claims 1-24 have been canceled. Claim 25 has been amended.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 25 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fritsch, U. S. Patent 6,247,130 in view of Hess et al., U. S. Patent 6,058,417.

As to claim 25, Fritsch teaches a device for distributing intellectual property comprising (abstract):

- a) A memory, the memory including a list of intellectual property being offered for sale (column 3 lines 10-19 and Figs. 1A-1B);
- b) A display device (Figs. 1A-1B);
- c) A processor connected to the memory and the display device, the processor being configured to perform the steps of (column 3 lines 20-45):

Art. Unit: 3621

- i. Displaying the list to a purchaser (column 4 lines 38-42 and Figs. 1A-1B);
- ii. Accepting a selection of intellectual property from a purchaser including searching the seller computer to determine availability of the intellectual property (column 4 lines 38-49 and column 5 lines 14-20);
- iii. Transmitting payment information from the purchaser to a third party for brokerage (column 6 lines 14-27);
- iv. Receiving the intellectual property from the seller; and making the intellectual property available the purchaser (column 6 lines 24-34).

Fritsch does not specifically state that the intellectual property being stored on a plurality of seller computers, the list further including an address for each seller computer. However, Hess teaches the information related to the sales of the products is stored in a plurality of seller computers including an address for each seller computer (column 4 line 60 – column 5 line 24 and column 6 line 17 – column 7 line 20). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to allow the intellectual property (product for sale) to be stored on a plurality of seller computers, and the list including an address for each seller computer for better releasing the information load of a central computer.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3621

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
